Q10021305 - I am having trouble loading the RAID driver using the Windows 7 x64 recovery disk. The problem is when I load OEMSETUP.INF a dozen models show up, but the text to the right which would identify the appropriate model is not visible! How can I load the right driver for 1882ix-16?

All our RAID adapters have different IDs using same driver package. The installer lists these drivers belonged various cards. But you may not identify these long description driver names. But you can select any of these model drivers in the list since every model list loads same driver package.
